TODAY'S EVENTS.

Mrs. George H. Dorn will entertain this afternoon at a children's party for her children, Marian and John, when a number of their little friends will enjoy an "Easter egg hunt."

Miss Nan Short entertains this afternoon for Miss Ethel Lane in compliment to her approaching marriage.

Miss Katherine Adams, an April bride, will be the guest of honor at this afternoon at a linen shower given by Miss Emily McAllister.

The Browning section of the Ladies' Literary club meets today at 1 o'clock at the Y. W. C. A. rooms in the Brooks Arcade, when luncheon will be served. The afternoon will be devoted to the regular Browning program.

Mr. and Mrs. John C. Cutler, Jr., will entertain at their home this evening, when an informal musical program and games will be the features of the evening.

Mrs. J. E. McCarty and Mrs. Alice E. May will entertain this afternoon at a Kensington at the apartments of Mrs. McCarty in the Arlington, in honor of Mrs. Flora Sinclair, worthy grand matron of the O. E. S.

A beautiful Easter luncheon was given yesterday by Mrs. James Dinwoodey, Jr., at her home, where the Easter effect was carried out. A vase of Easter lilies on a lace centerpiece graced the center of the table, which was lighted by yellow shaded candelabra. Yellow ribbon extended from the chandelier to each place, where the favors were small nests filled with eggs. The hand-painted place cards were in the shape of eggs, and in the game of bridge following the luncheon, the lilies and prizes were also in white and gold. Twelve guests were present to enjoy the afternoon, and the hostess was assisted by Mrs. Ralph Dinwoodey.

For Miss Katherine Adams a very pretty five hundred party was given yesterday afternoon by Miss Harriet McCarrick, who was assisted in entertaining by her mother, Mrs. E. McCarrick, and her sister, Miss Catherine McCarrick. Yellow and white daffodils were the graceful decorations of the rooms and of the luncheon table. Three tables of the game were played.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Grimsdell entertained very pleasantly last evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. George Houghton at seven tables of five hundred. Easter lilies and yellow and white daffodils were the charming decorations throughout the house. The hostess was assisted by her sister, Miss Swenson.

Mrs. C. W. Midgley gave a delightful theatre party yesterday afternoon at the pretty new Casino theatre. Her guests were members of the Jolly Twelve club. After the matinee performance the party adjourned to Franklin's, where a prettily appointed luncheon was served, the details being carried out in yellow and white, the Easter colors. Those present were Mrs. A. H. Little, Mrs. E. Y. Taylor, Mrs. S. H. Lund, Mrs. Oliver Meredith, Jr., Mrs. P. G. Hampton, Mrs. Gideon Snyder, Mrs. Grant Snyder, Mrs. George Cummings, Mrs. C. H. Bodol, Mrs. W. Rives, Mrs. E. B. Erwin, Mrs. Robert Gray, Mrs. A. A. Reese, Mrs. O. J. Reese.

Mrs. George C. Lambert and daughters, Vina and Grace, have returned from southern California, where they spent the winter.

Mrs. W. J. Faulds and Miss Marjorie M. Adams left Friday afternoon for the east.

E. Carrick has gone east for a several weeks' trip.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Dunn have gone to California.

Mrs. H. E. Van Housen will go to Rhine, Wyo., next week to visit with relatives.

At the home of Miss Rachel Burton, 35 Fifth avenue, Thursday evening, the following were pleasantly entertained: Mr. and Mrs. William B. Pearson, Miss Lottie Brain, Miss Bertha Wells, Miss Ida May Burton, Miss V. L. Scott, Misses Norma and Lucella Waring, Miss Emaline Wotcott, Miss Afton Pinney, Howard Burton, Emmett Mousley, Leslie Brain, Lee Burton and Forrest Stuart. Games were engaged in, after which dainty refreshments were served. During the remainder of the evening a number of vocal solos were rendered by Miss Brain and Mr. Brain, accompanied by Miss Burton, pianist, and Mr. Mousley, violinist. Several duets were also rendered by Miss Brain, Miss Burton and Mr. Mousley.

The annual senior chapel day at the university yesterday was the most successful of this character that has ever been held by the students. The seniors appeared for the first time in cap and gown at 8:30 o'clock, and went to their classes in this classic garb. At 11 o'clock all of the senior classes were dismissed and the members met on the library steps for their official picture. Previous to their going to the museum building, where the exercises for the day were held, the junior boys dressed in white gowns and white caps, marched around the campus carrying a sign which read: "Not yet, but soon." At 11:30 the seniors fell in line and marched to the museum building. They were followed by the junior boys arrayed in their virgin gowns.

As the seniors entered the hall they were greeted with lusty cheers. They were arranged on the rostrum and to their right sat the members of the faculty and the speakers.

President A. A. Anderson of the class gave a brief history of the things the class had done since they had been at the university. President Anderson was followed by Horace Englin, who rendered two baritone solos. The Rev. Elmer J. Goshen then pronounced the invocation.

O. W. Powers, the speaker of the day, spoke of the things which the senior class would be expected to do after they left the university. He told the seniors of the many stormy seas they would have to traverse in their life. He urged upon the members to be sincere and honest and develop self-control.

"The greatest genius of the world," he said, "is not the one who is naturally born, but the one who makes himself by hard, earnest and conscientious work. Be honest and I am sure you will succeed in whatever walk of life you follow after you leave the halls of the university."

The exercises were completed by the rendering of two violin selections by Miss Chloe Sharp.

When the seniors marched from the hall they were followed by the junior class. They marched to the university campus, where L. H. Hansen, posing as the president, delivered to each junior a diploma. Each member of the class represented some one of the seniors. The burlesque was quite original.

From 2 o'clock until 4 o'clock the seniors entertained their friends and the friends of the institution at an informal reception. From 4 o'clock until 6 o'clock a dance was given in the gymnasium.

A fitting climax to the day was the appearance of the class in their caps and gowns at the Orpheum in the evening. The class had the lower boxes. The boxes were decorated with the pennants of the university and the flags of the class. During the intermission the class gave vent to their feelings by lustily giving their college yell. After the theatre the class members took dinner at one of the downtown cafes.

Whooping-Cough, Croup, Bronchitis, Coughs, Diphtheria, Catarrh.

Cresoline is a Boon to Asthmatics.

Does it not seem more effective to breathe in a remedy for diseases of the breathing organs than to take the remedy into the stomach?

Cresoline comes because the air, rendered strongly antiseptic, is carried over the diseased surface with every breath, giving prolonged and constant treatment. It is invaluable to mothers with small children.

That of a Consumptive Tendency will find immediate relief from Coughs or Inflamed Condition of the throat.

Upper Classmen of University Observe Chapel Day in Caps and Gowns.

FINISHING NEW ROAD

Oregon Short Line's Northwestern Branch in Idaho Is Nearly Completed.

The new Northwestern branch of the Oregon Short Line in Idaho extending from Huntington to Homestead, a distance of 18 miles, will probably be completed within 15 to 20 days. General Manager W. H. Bancroft, assistant General Engineer William Ashton returned Thursday night from a tour of inspection over the entire Idaho division of the system, and report excellent progress on the Northwestern branch, as well as the extension from 18 to 20 miles. The track-laying has been completed and efforts are now directed to finishing depots at Rogerson and Hollister, surfacing and setting the track properly graded.

During their trip over Idaho the Short Line officials visited the Bear River district, where a few weeks ago a wash-out of small proportions occurred. It was ascertained the damage there was small and that there are no prospects of further trouble this year. The snow is going rapidly at the headwaters of Bear river. The chief cause of the trouble in that district was not so much from melting snow as from the ice gorges.

During their absence the offices of Messrs. Bancroft and Knickerbocker were renovated and overhauled.
